

Learning for Leaders.

Core Leadership Program (CLP)

PROGRAM STRUCTURE

10 weekly sessions of 3-hour duration each for a group of 10 participants

Blend of proprietary methods including

- reflective questions,
- experiential activities,
- evidence-based assessments
- windows of assimilation in silence.

Change and volatility are constant.

A leader is the one who seeks to answer - what can 'I' do about this situation. Through this program, you will not only build resilience to changes that occur but learn as a leader to actively seek change as an opportunity to grow. The Core Leadership Program brings a paradigm shift in the way leaders learn - it is a conscious, creative, continuous, and an integrative way of learning.

Who should attend?

This program is targeted at individuals who are looking to take charge of their lives and situations that they are presented with. If you are eager to connect and co-learn with participants who are actively seeking to integrate their aspirations, work, and personal life, this is the right program for you.

Program Benefits.

- By attending this program you will learn practices to:
 - Increase your well-being and grow in self-awareness
 - Learn more effectively
 - Work more effectively
 - Learn to live and work together
- Get an opportunity to connect with a community that enables your practice and believes in you
- Expand your ability to influence, take responsibility and build trust
- Become present to a whole new portal of learning and leading

Core Leadership Program (CLP)

Learning for Leaders.

Creatnet Learning has been enabling learning for leaders in business and education. This has led to transformative shifts in the individuals, organisations, communities, and systems of which they are a part.

The Creatnet approach of - practice of learning in small groups using frameworks and led by facilitators (who practice what they enable) is considered a major contribution to education and leadership development.

"My organization has benefitted from the programme and has grown tremendously, continuously, and meaningfully from a small boutique agency to a global strategic design firm in the past seven years. We have also witnessed growth in leadership and maturity among our employees."

- Hari Nallan,
Co-Founder and CEO, Think Design

It integrates- inner and outer growth.

The core leadership program distills the principles and practices that have enabled learning for leaders into a 10-week learning experience. The program offers a practice to a new paradigm of learning- that is integrated with life and awakens you to your highest potential.
